

Emily Grace Jao

Jan 30 12:11pm | Last reply Feb 2 1:21pm

1. I would definitely say I am a visualizer because I love being creative and understanding how everything works for an assignment. I enjoy seeing things come together visually, which helps me express my ideas better.

2. Understanding others' work styles can lead to better teamwork and make everyone feel included. When we know how each person works best, we can combine our strengths and support each other more effectively. This brings a more positive team environment.

> 3 Replies | ← Reply | 👍 Like | ✉️ Mark as Unread